A TREAT IN VAUDEVILLE.

-In the near future Paris theatregoers are to be treated to something extraordinary in vaudeville. Messrs. McMahan & Jackson, managers of the Paris Grand are arranging for a threenights' engagement of all-featured acts in vaudeville, something that has never before been seen in this city. The program will include some of the which are to be secured direct from Keith's New York circuit and also from the Orpheum circuit, and the six high-class acts to be presented will be entirely new to the people of Paris. the fifth of October.

"A STUBBORN CINDERELLA."

-"A Stubborn Cinderella," the latest musical comedy and tremendous success will be the attraction at the Lexington Opera House Monday and Tuesday and Tuesday matinee. The production comes direct from the Princess Theatre, Chicago, where it had its triumphant opening last May and is now in its eighth month of the biggest success Chicago has ever had. No recent years have seen a musical comedy which has made such a positive hit as "A Stubborn Cinderella," it not only having opened Chicago's newest and best theatre but every dramatic critic was loud in their praises and predicted years of prosperity for Hough, Adams and Howard's latest success. Stubborn Cinderella" was produced by Mort B. Singer and the Princess Amusement Company and is the largest musical production ever sent out of Chicago, it having a cast of eighty people and a production that cost nearly $75,000. The scenery and costumes are gorgeous and the fifty show girls are beautifully arrayed time will afford me an occasion to show during the entire play. Natural Gas Question.

In an interview with President Stuart, of Winchester, of the Kentucky Natural Gas Company, the News man was informed that the gas company is anxious to law mains to this city. The only thing they want Paris to do is to give the company the same kind of franchise as is given them by 'the city of Mt. Sterling. Mr Stuart says that they now are putting in about $100,000 worth of machinery to make their plant complete; that it has been demonstrated that the three wells of his company can supply 100,000 people leading artists on the vaudeville stage, all the gas they can use for one hundred years.

Now if there is one thing above all others that the Paris Commercial Club should go after it is this natural gas. Think of it,. Winchester people pay The engagement will probably open ing 25 cents per thousand for gas and Paris people paying $1.50 for same amount. Natural gas in Paris would be of more benefit to the citizens of this community than anything else we know of. From our conversation with President Stnart we feel that if the Paris Commercial Club will take this matter up at once, the results will be forthcoming in a short time.

The Human Ear.

Experts tell us that in all the world you will not find a perfect human ear.

In the United States "right hand" yarn is yarn of which the twist slopes up to the right similar to the threads of an ordinary right hand screw. Germans call this "left hand" yard for the reason that if held in the hand it has to be twisted to the left to twist it together, whereas twisting to the right unwinds it.

An honorary degree was once conferred on Mark Twain by a numble institution in a Missouri town that had known him when he was playing Tom Sawyer there in real life.

It happened that the degree conferring cermonies took place one lazy day in June when newspapers generally were suffering from a total collapse of everything in the way of news.

Twain's Emancipation-

One New York news editor raked the land with a figurative fine tooth comb and got a dry haul for his pains. Then, recalling that Mark Twain was getting his honorary degree that very day, it occurred to him that a message direct from the famous author might relieve the situation in the news. After much scratching of the editorial idea factory he evolved this query,

How does it feel to be a doctor of laws? Please wire answer at our expense. After a wait of several hours this which was transmitted to Mark Twain characteristic response came hot over the wire from Missouri: It feels like emancipation from ignorance

Riding a Camel In the Desert. Dr. Nachtigal, the celebrated African explorer, was the guest of a rich Hamburg merchant. The merchant's son, a young man of a somewhat sentimental temperament, said among other things temperament, said almong other things that his dearest wish was to ride across the desert on the back of a camel. He all druggists throughout the world. thought such a ride must be very poetical indeed.

"My dear young friend," replied the explorer, "I can tell you how you can get a partial idea of what riding a camel on the deserts of Africa is like. Take an office stool, screw it up as high as possible and put it in a wagon without any springs. Then seat yourself on the stool and have it driven over rocky and uneven ground during and borne with all honors to its last the hottest weather of July or August and after you have not had anything to eat or drink for twenty-four hours, and then you will get a faint idea of how delightfully poetic it is to ride on a camel in the wilds of Africa."

He Gave Her a Present.

When I was a young man Lady Jersey was one of the leaders of fashion, and her house was the resort of politicians and others. With her lived her daughter, Lady Clementine Villiers, a handsome and clever girl. The custom had been established that all friends should give the latter a present on her birthday, and these presents were set out in an antechamber. Among these friends was Lord Brougham, then an old man. He called on a birthday, but had forgotten what the occasion was, and had brought no present. Seeing a mass of presents laid out, he seized one of them and took it in as his present. rightly counting that the young lady would not remember that it was one that already had been given to her. And very proud he was of his presence of mind. But, then, he was an ex-lord chancellor.-London Truth.

Many Languages of Mexico.

During the fiesta of Christmas or the week of All Souls and All Saints, when the Indians swarm down from the mountains with their holiday wares for sale, visitors in the City of Mexico may notice the strange language that the venders use in addressing each other. Even when they turn to serve the purchaser their Spanish is neither Castilian nor Mexican, but is frequently broken by peculiar syllables and accents. This is merely an illustration of the fact that the Indian languages of old Mexico have not been entirely submerged by the conquering Spanish, and in some of the most remote districts of the republic various and distinct languages handed down from the pre-Columbian era are still spoken in their pristine purity by many tribe members .- Mexican Herald.

Easy House Moving.

House moving is an easy task among the Lakas, a tribe living near the Lagone river, in the French Kongo, Africa. This tribe, which is one of the most superb examples of the savage black race, lives in conical shaped huts constructed of plaits of tough straw. When a change in location is desired, both the women and the men put their shoulders to the task and carry the roofs of their homes to the new site, sometimes many miles distant. The circular walls of the huts are rebuilt.

Turks and Coffee.

The Turks have a theory that coffee makes muscle and are therefore great coffee drinkers.

Posters.

Posters took their name from the fact that in former times the footways of London streets were separated from the drives by a line of posts on which advertisements were displayed.

Mascots.

Mascots have had their place in the world for many generations. Cats, as with the ancient Egyptians; grasshoppers, as in Italy, and various other specimens of animal life have in their time been counted as sacred or lucky by different peoples.

Peanuts.

Arachides, or peanuts, are imported into France from east Africa, the Brit ish and Dutch East Indies, Argentina. Algeria, Senegal, Australia and the United States. Those imported as nuts in the shell yield edible oil, while deorticated peanut kernels produce inferior grades of oil, which are used mainly for soapmaking.

The Eastern Kentucky State Normal Opened on Schedule Time.

At a meeting of the Regents of the three higher institutions of learning of the State held in Lexington, August it was unanimously resolved to open all the State schools on scheduled time. This has been done and the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School at Richmond is now in full operation with an increased attendance in all de partments over last fall. Pupils that have been hesitating on account of the rumor that went abroad on account of a possibility of the school not opening this fall, need hesitate no longer. All departments at Richmond are in full running order and these are ample boarding accommodations for all students of both sexes.

Bryan Throws Down the Gauntlet

William J. Bryan sent a telegram from Detroit Tuesday to President Roosevelt, in which he challenged him to produce proof of the charges against Gov. Haskell, of Oklahoma, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee. Mr. Bryan serves notice on the President that, as the candidate of the Democratic party, "I shall not permit any responsible member of the Repub lican organization to misrepresent the Democratic party in the present campaign." The telegram concludes with the statement that the Democratic party is making an honest and honorable fight in defense of its prichiples and policies and expects and will demand honorable treatment from those who are in charge of the Republican campaign.

"I must tell vou my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well-known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other travel-ing men when one of them went out county, subject to the action of the into the coach and came back and said Democratic primary, Nov. 11, 1908. There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out found her very ill with cramp colic her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them and with a death like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberiain's Colic, Chotera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel Famiebelle Sutherland as a candidate without it), ran to the water tank, put for Superintendent of County Schools a double dose of the medicine in the of Bourbon county, subject to the glass, poured some water into it and action of the Democratic primary. stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root. Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure you sumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe obstistages. It will cure very severe obsti-nate, hang-or, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of gly-

erine:
"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."
